CEO Report

As the days grow shorter and the welcome cool of the autumn season sets in, we approach the close of another financial year - a natural moment to pause, reflect, and look ahead. Over the past 12 months, Dogs West has made significant strides, laying the groundwork for an exciting and transformative future.

Our inaugural partnership year with PD Insurance marked a new chapter, opening up vital conversations around diversifying income streams. This partnership, alongside the soon-to-be-finalised Telecommunications Tower agreement with Waveconn, signals a promising financial outlook for 2025/2026.

Behind the scenes, our dedicated staff have been hard at work-progressing the development of our new website (yes, it's still moving forward, though a little slower than hoped!), improving financial systems, reopening the bar with electronic payments and new bar volunteers, enhancing governance processes, sourcing new hirers, and pursuing multiple income-generating initiatives.

Looking ahead, 2025/2026 promises to be a landmark year. We'll be launching new programs, introducing fresh revenue opportunities, and placing a renewed emphasis on growing our membership and enhancing the value we provide to each and every member. Amidst this momentum, we remain grounded in our commitment to member support—seeking better, more effective ways to connect, respond, and assist.

A cornerstone of the coming year will be the development of a new Strategic Plan—an exciting opportunity to define the vision for Dogs West into 2026 and beyond. Members will play a key role in shaping this direction, helping us chart a path that reflects our shared aspirations and values.

Marzel Norton

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

President Report

Members at the Special General Meeting held in April supported the proposal from Waveconn for the lease of 100 m2 of land for the installation of a communications tower. Thank you to the Members who attended. An application for that development will be lodged by Waveconn with the City of Gosnells for approval, before works can commence. This development will have no impact on operations or events at Dogs West, but provides the Association with an income stream over the next 30 years, with annual payments increasing during that term.

Governing Council has agreed that a new Strategic Plan be developed for the Association. Working along with our CEO, Members will play a key role in this process to define our goals and forward direction.

In her report our CEO has outlined the scope of work being undertaken in a number of areas. This work is not always obvious, but will become more so once the delayed website is launched with improved functionality for Members to interact with the Association. As a reviewer of the new website I can confirm that work is progressing but it takes time to review and update hundreds of pages of text, as well as test new functionality.

The Finance Committee is currently working on the proposed budget for 2025/2026. One of the aims of this budget is to scrutinise our Fees and Charges and to simplify them wherever possible. This is similar to the Rules and Regulations review which is ongoing, with Regulations being reviewed and changed to ensure they are relevant. It is a big task.

NEW ENCLOSURE FOR EARTHDOG AND BALE HUNT EVENTS

Dogs West is thrilled to announce the completion of a brand-new enclosure on our grounds, designed to support the growing interest in Earthdog and Bale Hunt events. This purpose-built space will be in use during the cooler months from late April to early October, providing an exciting and safe environment for dogs to showcase their natural instincts and skills.

Many Terrier and Dachshund breeds were originally bred to hunt, chase, and go to ground in pursuit of quarry. The sport of Earthdog allows these dogs to demonstrate their innate abilities in a controlled, simulated hunting environment. Meanwhile, Bale Hunt is a new and developing event, which blends elements of Earthdog, Agility, Obedience, and Scent Work. While official rules are still being refined, interested participants will have the opportunity to take part in Bale Hunt Try Out days. Unlike Earthdog, Bale Hunt is open to all breeds and mixed-breed dogs, making it an inclusive and engaging sport for many canine enthusiasts.

The enclosure was fully supported by Dogs West, with construction made possible through the hard work and fundraising efforts of the Dachshund Club and Earthdog Working Party.

The enclosure allows WA to join other states that have similar dedicated spaces for these activities. With this new facility, we aim to provide an enhanced experience for competitors and spectators alike while fostering the continued growth of these sports.

The first official event in the new enclosure is scheduled for 27 April this year. On this day, the Dachshund Club of WA will be hosting three Earthdog Tests, two of which will be judged by an esteemed interstate judge. This event marks the beginning of an exciting new chapter for Earthdog and Bale Hunt at Dogs West.

Beyond the competition season, the enclosure will serve as an additional off-lead exercise area. Future enhancements, including the planting of native trees and the installation of shade sails, are planned to ensure year-round functionality.

We look forward to welcoming handlers and their dogs to this new facility and encourage all those interested to come along and experience the thrill of Earthdog and Bale Hunt firsthand.

How to choose the RIGHT PET INSURANCE for your dog

Australia has one of the highest pet ownership rates, yet many pets remain uninsured. Often, this is due to uncertainty about what's covered and how it provides value. The key to making a confident choice is selecting a plan that aligns with your dog's health needs now and into the future.

How can you do this? Just like with human health insurance, it's important to compare plan types, inclusions, exclusions, sub-limits, and claims processes in order to find the best fit. Here's what to consider:

1. Assess your dog's health profile

Different breeds have distinct health risks and requirements. For example, Labradors and German Shepherds are prone to hip dysplasia, while Shar-Peis and Dalmatians often experience allergies. Consider your dog's age, health history, and any breed-specific conditions it may experience throughout its life when making your selection. You may want a policy that includes hereditary and chronic conditions or those as well as dental care.

2. Compare plan types

PD Insurance offers three levels of cover (which each include third-party liability):

- Accident Plan: As the most affordable option, this covers injuries from accidents such as broken bones or lacerations.
- Classic Plan: As the most popular option, this, adds to accident cover with cover for illnesses such as infections, allergies, and some hereditary conditions and chronic diseases.
- Deluxe Plan: As the option with the broadest range of cover, this includes accidents, illnesses, and dental care.

3. Know what's included (and excluded)

All pet insurance policies have exclusions. Common ones include pre-existing conditions (a great reason to insure your pet early!), elective procedures (pet insurance is primarily designed for unexpected vet visits), and congenital conditions—such as brachycephalic obstructive airway syndrome (BOAS).. PD plans cover accidents, surgeries, hospital stays, prescription medications, and third-party liability, to name a few.

4. Understand annual limits and sub-limits

Each plan has an annual benefit limit, which is the maximum amount you can claim each year. PD plans range from $5,000 (Accident Plan) to $20,000 (Deluxe Plan). Policies may also have sub-limits on specific conditions, claim limits and co-payments that apply. Also, check waiting periods, which are the periods (specific to your selected plan) that must pass from the date you start your policy before your pet's cover will begin.

5. Simple and fast claims process

A hassle-free claims process can make a big difference when dealing with unexpected vet bills. PD Insurance aims to reimburse within two business days after receiving all required documents.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT POLICY

By researching and comparing plans, you can find the best cover to protect your dog's health and safeguard your finances. Investing early means peace of mind and the best care for your furry friend.

PD's Pro Tips for Picking the Perfect Dog Breed for Your Lifestyle

Are you getting ready to welcome a new canine companion into your heart and home? Whether you're a first-time or experienced owner, choosing the right breed to match your lifestyle is an essential building block for a positive life-long relationship.

Dogs are our best friends, and just as with any friendship, the right match often corresponds with a balance of needs which build trust and longevity. If you're considering a breed you haven't had experience with or owned before, here are some considerations for matching your breed and lifestyle.

Dog size and energy requirements

Large breeds like Border Collies and German Shepherds need ample exercise, so if you're looking for a running buddy, they could be your match. Less so if you're mostly indoors and prefer a slow stroll around the block—in which case a breed like the Shih Tzu or Australian Silky Terrier could be a better match.

Considering many purebred dogs were originally bred for specific roles like herding, hunting, retrieving or guarding, you'll want to cater not only to their energy requirements but also to their need for training and socialisation. These breeds have strong instincts that require additional training and mental stimulation to keep them happy, healthy and well-balanced.

Coat type and grooming requirements

Dogs have a wide variety of coat types, including single and double coats, waterproof and durable as well as fur or hair to name a few. Each coat type has its own grooming requirements, which is always good to factor into your decision-making process (and available time!).

Long-haired breeds, such as the Afghan Hound or the Shih Tzu, both need regular brushing, for example, however the former needs a weekly bath while the latter can be bathed every two to three weeks. Short-haired breeds Boxers and Beagles need less grooming but still benefit from occasional brushing.

When it comes to allergies, if you have one, then dogs with hair produce less dander so can be considered low-allergy dogs. These include Poodles, Bichon Frises and Portuguese Water Dogs, to name a few.

Prepping for pup

Puppies are renowned for their endless zoomies and ubiquitous teething. Yes, you may lose valuable items like socks and shoes to those teeth (PD's claims data shows that accidental ingestion is a common claim type), and you may lose sleep over the indomitable energy levels and random acts of 'needing to go'.

However, having your home pet-proofed and getting your puppy supplies before puppy comes home can help pave the way to a smoother puppy parenthood. It's also always a good idea to have puppy insurance from day one for fewer worries about what could go wrong. Be sure to visit pd.com.au for discounted puppy insurance.
